We went to Buenos Aires on Fulham Palace Road for my boyfriend's birthday and everything was perfect : staff friendly and professional, steaks amazing [thanks god, as it was the prime reason why we went there], dessert fantastic [love the dulce de leche!]. The only thing was the noise, the acoustic wasn't very good but we were placed as far as possible from a big group that was dining there. Nothing they can really do about and it didn't stop us from having a really good time! We'll b back!

I go to many steak restaurants and Buenos Aires in Fulham ranks highly amongst these. The steak was perfectly grilled and it was clear that the quality of meat is high. Waiters were attentive and a good relaxed venue. I will be going back again soon.

Craving a good steak, my fiance and I dined at Buenos Aires restaurant in Fulham because the reviews seemed positive. It did not disappoint - the service was great, very friendly and attentive, and the food was delicious, with both of our steaks cooked to perfection. With it being a Tuesday night it was possibly quieter than later in the week, but it still had a nice vibe. Great selection of wines - especially if you love Malbec!

We have been to Buenos Aires in Fulham once before and enjoyed the food. Unfortunately, this time I felt that the standard was not the same although the staff are brilliant. The aubergine starter I had was flavourless although my partner's prawns were excellent. Steaks were average, slightly too bloody for medium but good portions, and while the spinach side was great, the grilled mushrooms were very dry and chewy. However, it is a good local restaurant and I'm sure the issues were a one off.

The food was excellent, the best fillet steak I have ever had. The staff was super friendly and the wine list was very good value. Will definitely be returning and would recommend it to anyone who wants a good steak.

This is the second time at the Buenos Aires in Fulham, and it doesn't disappoint! The steaks are delicious, good portions and fairly priced. We didn't order starters and instead had the Plato Combinado each - meat, side and sauce - definately better value for money. The only negative comment I would make is that the last time I went they severly undercooked a medium so that it was almost rare, and tonight they got in spot on - I guess it depends on the chef for the night!

Buenos Aires Restaurant in Fulham Palace Road: Coming from an Argentinean, I can say that this is a really nice authentic restaurant. The meat (Los Cuarto BA) and desserts (Dulce de Leche) are outstanding!

Buenos Aires can definitely do a great steak - one of the best I've had in London, both in terms of the quality of meat and the way it was cooked. Service was very good with very friendly and helpful wait staff. They could do a little bit more to make the outside area a bit more atmospheric but on the whole a very nice dinner - will be back.
